

30 BAND MEN HERE LEAVE FOR NEVADA

FOURTH REGIMENT MUSICIANS
ENTRAINED THIS AFTERNOON.

SEVERAL RECRUITED FOR REGULAR SERVICE

Few Here Surprised to Find Names
Still on Official Muster Roll—Complete List of Those Going.

The Fourth Regiment band entrained on the 4:48 Burlington train this afternoon upon the special coach which was set out for them yesterday noon. Lieut. Malcolm McDonald arrived last night with the official muster roll and several who thought that they were no longer members found that they must get into soldier clothes and go to Nevada, Mo.

The list of surprised men are those who signed with the band when an effort was being made to secure the Fourth Regiment band for this city. They were transferred locally to the regular Company F later because they played very little on a band instrument. All of this class supposed that they were mustered out with the company.

When the official muster roll was read, several were astonished to find themselves enlisted for service. Among this number were George Crowson, city editor of the Maryville Tribune; H. J. Becker, and Charles Casey. Mr. Becker was discharged because of a bad ankle. Casey made application for discharge in March but must go as the final papers have not been received.

The printed list of yesterday was not official, as was said, since the muster roll used was in St. Joseph. Those not mentioned yesterday who left with the band, are:

George Crowson
Charles Casey
Oliver Bovard
Henry M. Dressler
John J. LaVelle
James R. McMahon
Sam Mitchell
Carl Tarpley
E. L. Howard
Charles Still
Henry Reynolds
Arch Legerwood
The list given yesterday follows:
T. B. Maulding, Bandmaster.
Harold Maulding, Chief Musician
Esra Phipps, Drum Major
Frank Schumacher, Mess Serg.
Herman King, Sergeant
Marion Minter, Sergeant
Mel Atherton, Sergeant
Claud Wilson, Cook
Thomas McMullen, Cook.
I. B. Williams
Bert Woodard
Robert Bramble
Earl Bricker
Ereille Kinman
William Grammar
Orville Vert
Frank Spargur
Joseph D. Grady
Gaylord Goss Sanford

May Be in St. Joseph 24 Hours.

It was uncertain today whether the man would go straight through to Nevada or spend a day in St. Joseph waiting for the other companies of the Fourth Regiment to arrive. Charles Still, Henry Reynolds and probably Arch Legerwood, three who enlisted yesterday will probably be transferred to Company A of Tarkio.

Four men who are enlisted with the band are in other states or parts of Missouri and will not go from here. An effort is being made to get in touch with them. Wayne David and Verne Dickson are somewhere in Colorado. Paul ("Buck") Whitney is somewhere in California. Edward J. Goecke is in Edina, Mo., and is expected to come with Company F, which is now at that place.

Notes of The Band Boys

"Jack," well known bull dog belonging to Harold Maulding, chief musician of the band, will be taken along as the mascot of the Fourth Regiment band. Some of the fellows would be lost without "Jack" to fight with.

Band concerts will be held as usual on Thursday night, with Lloyd Miles directing. Many Maryville musicians who have dropped out of the band will be recruited and a few musicians from Bedford will fill out the gaps.

The militiamen were on the streets all day in their soldier clothes and created much comment. Many of the fellows spent several hours improving their eyesight in the shooting galleries.

Sign a New Federal Oath.

All of the men here signed the new oath of allegiance to the federal government in accordance with the new Hay bill. The oath follows:

"I do hereby acknowledge to have voluntarily enlisted this.....day of....., 19...., as a soldier in the National Guard of the United States and of the State of Missouri, for the period of three years in service and three years in the reserve, under the conditions prescribed by law, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. And I do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and to the State of Missouri, and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever, and that I will obey the orders of the president of the United States and of the governor of the State of Missouri, and of the officers appointed over me according to law and the rules and articles of war."

Still Talking of New Company.

There was some talk today of organizing a company here within the next several days, the movement having been started by Kyle Phares, who was formerly captain of Company F, which was mustered out recently. As the Fourth regiment has a full quota of companies, Mr. Phares talked to Col. Lamb of the Third regiment at Kansas City. The third regiment is short of one company and Col. Lamb told Mr. Phares he would call him up later in the day and let him know whether to proceed with the organization.

A number of the young men of the city and over the county have signified they would join.

TO PLACE 250 SIGNS

TRAVELERS WILL BE DIRECTED TO MARYVILLE.

BY THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Attractive Metal Plates in Red, White and Blue Ordered by Highway Committee.

Two hundred and fifty signs have been ordered by the highway committee of the Maryville Commercial club and will be placed at all of the important crossroads and other confusing turns in the roads of Nodaway county.

The signs will be of a specially prepared metal to withstand the weather and will read "Maryville," while an arrow will point out the direction. The background will be of white, the letters blue and the arrow red.

The signs were ordered through the highway department of the state and are recommended by F. W. Buffum, state highway engineer, as the most satisfactory. It is not known how soon delivery can be made but the work of putting them up will follow at once. Everyone who motors has had experience with getting into the wrong road and ending up in some farmer's front yard. Others have been in a hurry to get to a place and spent several hours from getting confused in the roads.

It is principally for this reason that signs directing travelers to Maryville will be placed. Dr. C. T. Bell is chairman of the highway committee of the Commercial club. E. C. Curfman and G. B. Roseberry are the other members.

Walker McDowell arrived last night from Okmulgee, Okla., to spend the summer with his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. McDowell.

Gabe Furell of Conception Junction was in Maryville today on business.

William A. Burks of Pickering spent today in Maryville.

FOR BARD OF AVON

SHAKESPEAREAN TRICENTENARY
RECOGNIZED BY COBURNS.

AMBITIOUS REPERTOIRE

Maryville Will Get Two of the Best
Plays Here Monday and Tuesday Nights.

It is an ambitious repertoire of Shakespeare's plays, which tells of long and arduous months of preparation, that the Coburn players are offering this year in celebration of the Shakespearean tercentenary. No less than five of the deathless dramas are on the list, including such diverse offerings as "Hamlet," "The Tempest," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Richard III" and "The Merchant of Venice."

It is only with a company of varied talents and great versatility that any producer would dare to fare forth with such a repertoire, but this Charles Douville Coburn possesses. The men and women who go to make up his gathering of players are all especially chosen, and besides the training and experience they have had they must be imbued with that true love for the master works in which they are to take, which compels sincerity and artistic joy in their interpretations—a joy that is so quickly communicated to the enlightened audience.

The Coburn players will give "Hamlet" next Monday night, "The Rivals" next Tuesday afternoon and "Richard III" Tuesday night. The evening performances will be given on the campus and the afternoon play in the Normal auditorium. All will be in the Normal auditorium in case of inclement weather.

The Coburn players are brought here for the third consecutive year under the auspices of the State Normal school.

Though Mr. and Mrs. Coburn are naturally the leaders of the players, they are not believers in a "star system" that tends to make a production overloaded at one end or another, and it is on account of their appreciation of the importance of having every part taken by a thoroughly competent actor or actress that their offerings have won their reputation for such exquisite and well preserved balance.

In commemoration of the lapse of 300 years since the death of Shakespeare the drama of the greatest of writers for the stage is enjoying a wonderful recrudescence this year, and those who were asking not so long ago "Is Shakespeare dead?" are receiving a decidedly negative answer to their question. If Mr. Coburn so desired he might truthfully say "I told you so" for during a half score of years, during which it was almost an axiom that Shakespeare spelled bankruptcy for the actor, he has been giving the immortal plays far and wide throughout the country, at schools and colleges, universities and country clubs, where the desire for repeated return engagements has almost without exception been urged upon him.

Thus he finds himself this year, when the bard of Avon, as might be said, has so emphatically come back into his own, with the best trained company of Shakespearean actors in the country under his direction.

U.S. SHIP SENT DOWN

CONNET TORPEDOED OR MINED
NEAR SHORE.

Captain and Crew All Saved—Fragments of Metal Will Be Examined.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, June 21.—The officers and crew of the American steamer Sea Connet, which went ashore on the Sereby Sands, Sunday, following an exterior explosion, reported at the American consulate yesterday. They reaffirmed that the steamer sustained her damage as the result of an explosion from without, but were unable to say whether a mine or a submarine was responsible, although marine authorities at Yarmouth had expressed the belief from an examination of portions of metal found in the hull of the vessel that a torpedo did the damage.

Consul General Skinner sent the following cablegram to the state department today:

"Five members of the crew steamer Sea Connet have just arrived. Have signed affidavits indicating that the ship either was mined or torpedoed. Fragments of the missile are expected today and will be examined by experts."

1,200 FACE INCOME PENALTY

W. O. Cox, Deputy Collector, Warns of Addition of 5 Per Cent Tax
After June 30.

Collector of Internal Revenue E. M. Harber states there is approximately 1,200 individuals and corporations subject to income tax who have not paid same. These must make their payments in time for deposit in the bank of Kansas City by June 30. Failing to do so, there is automatically added a penalty of 5 per cent. Collector Harber is anxious no penalties shall be imposed, and urges that payments be not delayed. There is no more prosperous district or district that responds, I think, more promptly to these payments than the Sixth district of Missouri, and there is no good reason why a single corporation or individual should have penalties visited on them by failure to pay. Respectfully yours, WILEY O. COX, Division Deputy Collector.

ARMY AND NAVY READY FOR WAR

IRON RING WILL CLOSE AROUND

17,000 MEXICANS SAID TO SURROUND PERSHING

Funston Worried and Sends Second
Urgent Appeal for More Cavalry on Border at Once.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, June 21.—All the forces of the United States army and navy were being distributed today so that the force of the soldiers and sailors will wedge all Mexico in a grip of iron, if the hostilities should be forced by the de facto government.

Practically every destroyer in the active list of the navy is under steam awaiting orders. The war department is making every effort to hurry the mobilization of the militia, indicating the seriousness with which the situation is viewed.

No word has reached the war department as to the position which Carranza has taken on the note.

Order Mexicans Back Home.

Douglas, Ariz., June 21.—Instructions have been received by the Mexican consuls to immediately order all Mexicans under their jurisdiction to leave for Mexico at once. The instructions were from Arredondo, Carranza's representative at Washington.

Closing in on Pershing.

San Antonio, June 21.—Seventeen thousand Mexican troops under Trevino are converging upon Pershing's forces from the east and northwest, it is reported in a dispatch received from Columbus.

The Mexicans are divided into two columns and are headed for Elualte and Nampiqua.

Despite the seriousness of the situation, officers at San Antonio feel no alarm for the safety of Pershing's forces.

General Funston, however, fearing attacks on Pershing, has made a second request to the war department that all available militia, especially cavalry, be rushed to the border immediately. This second request was sent to Washington this morning.

Word was received at Funston's headquarters this morning that the New York and Illinois cavalry are already fully equipped and ready to take the field.

It has been fully established that

WOODROW WILSON.

President Wilson is before the country for re-election upon the record of his administration. Mr. Wilson we know and his record we know. To say that he has made mistakes and that he will continue to make mistakes is to say merely that he is a human being. But high above the mistakes that he may have made his administration must be credited with an unusual state of prosperity, unsullied national honor and peace and contentment in the face of most trying conditions. Under Mr. Wilson's guidance and in spite of chicanery, of plotting, of emergencies and of crises this country has been kept out of the war in Europe. Our government has dealt justly by all peoples, great and small; and every American of conscience and intelligence can hold up his head in pride for his country and confidence in its integrity.

By Mr. Wilson's influence the national spirit has been awakened, the national heart has come to pulse in unison for great destiny of this republic. Mr. Wilson has given the American people a truly progressive administration. His leadership has made the country ready to face the new problems that the European war has caused. It is easy enough to find fault with the president, but no worthy critic has yet ventured to say what he would have done that Mr. Wilson failed to do or how he would have done better than Mr. Wilson that which has been done.

Mr. Wilson's critics say our prosperity was due to the impetus given by the European war. In a measure this is true; but supposing the war had struck this country under the antiquated banking system in vogue when Mr. Wilson took office? Financiers of consequence insist that one of the most disastrous panics the country ever experienced would have ensued. Will any fair critic deny the administration credit for its effort, so largely successful, to strengthen our financial and banking system? Indeed, neither the Republican nor the Progressive conventions undertake to criticize this law.

Fault is found with the tariff law. But this act faced conditions that were not apparent when it was passed, and the president and congress have already recognized the necessity of a readjustment, through a tariff commission. The federal trade commission law, the activities of the government in opening up foreign trade fields, the steps to develop Alaska, are all part of the administration's constructive policy. The valuable laws that have been written upon the statute books and the other achievements of the administration bear the marks of a strong and vigorous and intelligent chieftain, and, in some instances, they also bear testimony to the unusual fact that President Wilson is stronger than his party.

So much for the constructive record of the administration, which, of course, includes the recent vigorous agitation of preparedness. There will be no earnest and full-hearted effort to discount Mr. Wilson for what he has thus accomplished. It is his foreign policy that draws the shafts of his opponents. But what sincere American will deny that he has ably withstood provocation from without and jingoes from within, and that he has kept this country out of war?

The president's Mexican policy has been much criticized by his opponents. It is to be remembered, however, that so far there has been no intervention in the affairs of that country. If a clash of consequence shall come it will be forced by the Mexicans, who have mistaken tolerance for cowardice. Mr. Wilson has, as is well known, had in mind a closer relationship and an enduring comity between all of the North American republics. He has carefully nurtured this project and has preferred to let the Mexicans work out their own solution of the problems that confront them. If there must be intervention it will be only because patience has ceased, in their case, to be a virtue.

Mr. Wilson's greatest accomplishment, however, was the memorable diplomatic triumph which he scored over Germany, when he compelled that nation to abandon its unlawful and inhuman submarine warfare and thereby successfully upheld not only the rights of this country and its citizens but the rights of all other neutrals and of humanity. He has placed America upon a plane of altruism and has established a standard that must command the respect of other governments and other peoples for all time.

Meanwhile he has put a stop to the outrages committed on these shores by German subjects and sympathizers who sought to break the neutrality of this country by making it the rendezvous of plotters. Dumba, Van Papen, Boy-Ed and Dernburg were sent home and the less fortunate and more actively nefarious agents of destruction are doing time in American prisons.

Mr. Wilson refused to listen to the clamor on the part of the German propaganda, through its American agencies and members of congress who feared the German-American vote, for an embargo on arms; and for the very cogent reason that to do this would be a violation of neutrality. And so it would have been; it would have advantaged Germany and would have brought us the deserved enmity of the other belligerents.

For this course—because, in fact, he refused to be influenced by Germany—he is marked for punishment at the polls by the German-American Alliance, the Teutonic Sons of America and sundry similar organizations and individuals, through the agency of the Republican party. He has thrown them the gage of battle and calls upon all Americans who believe that American politics should be held sacred from foreign influence to rally to his standard. In fact, he anticipated them in his speeches long before the convention were held. He meets the issue

Crullers or Fried Cakes

Never Greasy

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Everyone likes fried cakes or crullers. Here's a very superior recipe. Follow directions closely—success is certain.

K.C. Crullers or Fried Cakes

Three cups sifted flour; 1½ level teaspoonfuls K.C. baking powder; ½ teaspoonful salt; 1 egg; ¼ cup granulated sugar; 3 tablespoonfuls melted butter; ½ cup skinned milk.

Sift together, three times, the flour, K.C. baking powder, salt and sugar. Add the egg, butter and milk to the beaten eggs and stir into the dry ingredients to make a stiff dough. Knead slightly; then cut with fried cake cutter. Drop into a deep kettle filled with hot fat; drain on soft paper or colander and roll in powdered sugar.

To fry have fat at smoking point, turn crullers several times while frying to insure all parts being equally light and thoroughly cooked.

By all means, send for the K.C. Cook's Book—it's free and it contains 90 just such appetizing recipes. Send the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans to the JAGUUS MFG. CO., Chicago, and write name and address plainly.

squarely and vigorously. If he is elected it will be a triumph for Americanism in which every sincere American citizen of today will find joy and in which the American citizens of the future will find comfort and security. No man can measure the effect in the other countries of the world if he is defeated. Far and above every other issue in this campaign this one appeals to the American heart.—St. Joseph News-Press.

FIGHT ON THE T. B. GROWS

Since 1904 When White Plague Attacks Began, Numbers Have Increased 1,600 Per Cent.

Statistics made public today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis show that nearly 3,000 agencies are now listed in the fight against tuberculosis in the United States, an increase of 1,600 per cent. since 1904, when the national warfare on this disease was started. These figures are taken from a new tuberculosis directory just issued by the association.

The list includes 557 sanatoriums and hospitals, 158 tuberculosis boarding houses, 90 hospitals for the insane and 35 penal institutions making special provision for tuberculosis, 455 dispensaries, 310 open air schools, and 1,324 anti-tuberculosis associations and committees. To these are added 158 Canadian institutions and associations, making a total of 3,087. The directory also gives a summary of municipal and state legislation on tuberculosis.

When the national association was formed in 1904 and the first list of agencies was printed, only 183 organizations and institutions were found. The second edition of the directory in 1908 reported 649 different agencies; and 1,440 were listed in the third edition published in 1911. On the basis of the latter figures, the number of agencies in the anti-tuberculosis movement has increased 115 per cent in the last five years.

FAMOUS WOMAN WITH A MESSAGE

Mrs. Nan Sperry, Assistant Labor Commissioner of Missouri, to Speak Here.

THE NEEDS OF OUR HOMES.

Practical Experience Has Given Her Keen Insight Into Problems of Tremendous Interest.

Mrs. Nan Sperry is coming to Chautauqua to deliver a lecture on "The Needs of Our Homes." She is eminently qualified to speak on this theme out of a big experience in a great city.

She has held the office of factory inspector of Kansas City, Mo., and was afterward appointed assistant labor commissioner of Missouri. In discharge ing the duties of these important offices she has proved her sterling worth and earned the right to be heard.

She is pre-eminently the champion and friend of the working girls who go to the cities from the small towns and know the poverty and temptations with which most of them have to fight. Her experiences among these girls have set her heart on fire, and she is now doing her utmost to stop the tide and correct the evils that have arisen.

Mrs. Sperry discusses in a broad, interesting and common sense way a subject of vital importance to parents, their children and the business men of every town. After she has concluded many have been heard to say, "That lecture was just built for our town."

Hear this wonderful woman at Chautauqua. You cannot afford to miss the opportunity.

COW CHARGES ON BABY.

Annoyed Because Child Was Wrapped in Red Blanket.

Philadelphia.—Mrs. Barbara Stoney went to Packington with her two small children. The baby was covered with a red blanket and was asleep in the carriage when an enraged cow, bellowing madly, charged.

Mrs. Stoney ran, and the cow pursued her. The mother succeeded in getting the baby out of the carriage, but was knocked against the fence and badly bruised before a crowd of men came and drove the cow away.

MUNICH IS STILL WORSE

GERMAN ACCUSATIONS AT BAVARIAN CITY INCREASED.

Even Chief of Police of That Municipality Is Disgusted at Immorality.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, June 21.—In the eyes of nearly all Germans outside Bavaria, Munich, the capital of the Bavarian kingdom, has always been a most frivolous and immoral city, an accusation that has been strongly resented by the people of Munich.

Things at Munich must, however, have gone from bad to worse, since now it is the chief of police of Munich, Herr von Grunberr, himself who is emptying the vials of his wrath upon the heads of his townspeople.

"The Bavarian soldiers," he says, "are getting sick and tired of sacrificing their lives for gamblers, gluttons, egotists and frivolous flirts who are unworthy of the name of women."

He regrets to see women and young girls wasting money on gay and costly costumes, while every day, from 1 o'clock in the morning, thousands of wives of soldiers at the front crowd the markets in the hope of getting a miserable scrap of meat which, as often as not, they do not get. He flays the families who are feasting and living high and the shirkers who have succeeded in escaping military service because of their rich and influential connections and who think only of enjoying life. He threatens to reveal the nightly orgies in bars and all night establishments which flourish in all parts of the city, and he thunders against the food usurers, merchants and shopkeepers who plunder and rob the people in the most atrocious manner, cornering supplies and charging outrageous prices.

Several churches in Munich have posted notices on their doors reading: "Women wearing loud or improper clothing are not admitted to this church."

Herr von Grunberr also accuses the lower classes of Munich women of having become apaches and of terrorizing the people of the outlying districts of the city. Several Pan-Germanic organizations have publicly praised the Munich chief of police for his courageous outspokenness.

LOST IDENTITY FOR YEARS.

Hurt in San Francisco Earthquake, Recovers Memory in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Samuel Samuels of San Francisco "awoke" in Milwaukee, he says, after his memory had been dimmed for ten years through an injury sustained during the San Francisco earthquake.

Wandering aimlessly, as though lost, Samuels, who is about sixty years old, accosted a policeman at Van Buren and Brady streets with the question, "Am I in San Francisco?" When told that he was in Milwaukee, 2,000 miles from San Francisco, Samuels was dubious.

"I owned a clothing store in San Francisco and had money," he said. "Where have I been and how have I lived all this time? I know I have wandered and tramped to many places, but until this day I did not know my own name or where I belonged."

GET WATER FOR KITCHEN

Running Supply on Farm Practicable at $20, Says Profitable Farming.

The kitchen water supply is the very greatest problem the farm wife has to face, and half her burdens are lifted when that supply is at hand without the back breaking effort that has been her lot throughout the ages.

Wynne L. McDougal, editor of Profitable Farming magazine, St. Joseph, Mo., says that the simplest solution is a pitcher pump and a kitchen sink, the total cost of which ought not to run over $20, and probably would be much less.

This method is practical where the well is not more than twenty feet deep, even though it be at some distance from the house, as the pump can "pull" for a considerable distance on the level. The sink may be simplified by leaving off the "S" trap, which is in common use where the drain connects with a sewer, but which is wholly unnecessary when the pipe merely leads into the open. As a matter of fact, it is better to leave it off, as it is likely to freeze and burst.

Supt. H. B. Wilson advocated the elimination of drugery from school work. Let's hurry up and define drugery.

Prof. G. H. Colbert is in Clarinda, Ia., today. He is one of the speakers at the County Rural School Commencement.

President Richardson leaves this evening to attend a meeting of the heads of the state educational institutions at Jefferson City. This group meets tomorrow with the state superintendent, to arrange certain standards by which the relation of the various institutions of the state will be more clearly defined. The students are much interested in the outcome of this meeting since it will determine the basis upon which the University will accept work done in the normals.

The lectures given by Superintendent Wilson of Topeka have been much enjoyed. He is a practical school man, and his talks to the students have been of practical benefit. He has no patience with the "Thomas Decay" which is only too prevalent in some educational circles.

A faculty tea was held last evening in the reception room.

The chapel program tomorrow has been postponed because of illness.

PENSIONS FOR GEESE.

Pair Will Have a Pond and a Grass Plot in a Zoo.

Cleveland, O.—Age, a cook executioner, a platter on the dinner table and a hungry family have no terrors for a goose and a gander penned up in Mrs. Ray Boey's back yard at 3420 West Forty-ninth street.

Having reached the ripe old age of thirty-six years, Dick and Mary—for these geese have names—are going to be pensioned. They will spend their declining years in luxury on a pond and a plot of grass in Brookside zoo.

These geese were raised by Mrs. John Bennis, Mrs. Boey's mother. It was her wish that they be allowed to die a natural death.

Mrs. Boey, unable properly to care for her elderly charges, appealed to Councilman Dickerson to provide a home where they might enjoy comforts which the confines of a back yard denied them. Councilman Dickerson secured their admittance to pension privileges at the zoo.

CHAINS HIS PRISONER.

Sheriff Takes No Chances as He Moves a Man.

Kansas City, Mo.—M. F. Moore, sheriff of Yates Center, Kan., doesn't take chances with prisoners. He dropped in at police headquarters the other morning on the way home from Colusa, Ill., leading Amos Wilkins at the end of a chain ten feet long.

"I want to leave this chap here while I see the town," said the sheriff. "All right, but you'll have to pay for his meals," said a booking clerk.

"Let him have what he wants; I'll pay," said Sheriff Moore.

As soon as the sheriff turned his back the prisoner ordered ham and eggs, apple pie, coffee and other food.

Wilkins said he was going to plead guilty to forging a twenty-five dollar check when he got back to Yates Center.

A real bull fight took place in Eagleville the other morning, but since the event had not been scheduled the number of spectators was small. A dozen men with handspikes, tent poles, pitchforks and whips tried to separate the combatants while they tore up sod, walks and flower beds in the front yard of the Bethany Republican's Eagleville correspondent. Then some body started a war whoop and the combined voices did what the other weapons had failed to do—bewildered the animals so that they could be separated.

"Old Chip," the Rayville correspondent of the Richmond Missourian, tells the story of a fiddle that went through the Civil war. A company, organized at Bedford, Indiana, toward the close of the war, bought this violin at Indianapolis on their way to the front and presented it to Dick Craven, one of their number, that he might play on it for the company during their service. Dick Craven died June 15, 1865, at Cartersville, Ga. When the company was mustered out February 10, 1866, they voted that the violin be sent to the dead musician's father, Col. John Craven, who lived near Vibbard, Mo., and to "Old Chip" was entrusted the mission of delivering the instrument to its new owner. This historic old violin is also a fine instrument. The boys of Company B paid $104 for it 51 years ago, and recently the present owner was offered $500 for it, but it is not for sale.

He diagnosed the symptoms as a disorder in the control box and proceeded to supply a cure. An inserted monkey wrench brought forth a blast of flame which licked up Lynch's trousers. PRINCE COMPOSER

Kaiser's Youngest Son Enlivens Melancholy of War.

HAS WRITTEN SIX MARCHES.

His Popularity With Men of Army Is Perhaps Greater Than That of Any of His Brothers—Compositions Known in Every Trench—Only Recently Married.

Berlin.—Prince Joachim, the emperor's youngest son, has been enlivening the melancholy of the war not only by getting married, but by composing some stirring war marches. Since August, 1914, he has written six marches—"The Men in Field Gray," "Young Germany," "1914" and "With God For King and Country." For a long time his music had been introduced to the court, his father taking the greatest pride in putting his compositions on the programs at the court concerts, but the general public was unacquainted with it.

The prince, being the youngest of the six sons of the emperor, has always been a great favorite with the people, and his popularity with the men of the army is perhaps greater than that of any of his brothers. His marches are known in every trench.

There was disappointment that his marriage recently to Princess Marie Auguste of Anhalt was not celebrated as a public festival. It took place at the Castle Bellevue, one of the royal residences, and there were no guests except the members of the two families. Emperor William was not present, the empress and her daughter, the Duchess of Brunswick, representing the imperial family. The little bride is in her eighteenth year, while the prince had his twenty-fifth birthday last December. They will probably live at Cassel when they set up a family establishment after the war. This is near Wilhelmshöhe, the old capital of Hesse, where Napoleon III. was held captive after the battle of Sedan and where the empress goes to stay for the month of August every year, as well as a part of September.

Prince Joachim is a member of a hussar regiment belonging to Cassel. When he was severely wounded in December, 1914, and taken to Berlin for hospital treatment his Cassel regiment was kept informed of his condition, and the prince spent his convalescence writing letters to his army comrades.

The young corporal who rushed to his aid when he was struck on the battlefield and the private who donated his fresh package of bandages to dress the prince's wounds received letters from the hospital of remembrance for their service.

Funston to Form Regiments.
San Antonio, June 21.—The war department has authorized General Funston to organize four new regiments of infantry and two of cavalry at Fort San Houston, in accordance with the army bill.

Pershing's official report did not contain any mention of the 17,000 Mexicans converging around the American lines and Funston is now inclined to doubt it. Pershing did report that he had been informed that there were a thousand Mexicans at Guzman but the scouting parties failed to locate them.

BURGLAR KEPT MONEY.

Woman's Last Word About Funds in the Bank Brought Decision.

Kansas City, Mo.—He was polite, even suave, as he unlocked the door and entered the room occupied by Mrs. William Buchanan of 1516 Locust street the other day. He closed the door so quietly and had such a gentlemanly manner that Mrs. Buchanan was too much surprised to scream. The intruder took her pocketbook, containing nearly $3, from the dresser. Then Mrs. Buchanan protested. "Please don't take my money. It is all I have," she pleaded. "But I understood you had lots of money," replied he, holding the cash in his hand. "But if this is all you have I'll return it." "But I have more than that," she insisted.
